INTRODUCTION

Dear partners, participants and friends!

We're glad to present you the info-pack for upcoming Mobility of youth workers in Kiev – Ukraine, which should help you clarify the sense of the event. Please read the information carefully, so once We meet on the project, you do not find yourself wondering – What I'm doing here? On the following pages you will find the information about the topic of the mobility, Venue and other practicalities.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The project aimed at 30 youth workers, aims to promote the idea of technology and audiovisual media as part of the daily work of the young workers and as a source for greater opportunities to pass on to young people, in an innovative way, all those values of solidarity, understanding of diversity, reception and inclusion. We want to raise awareness of the fact that audiovisual technology can be used very effectively both as a non-formal education tool for young people and as an excellent way to develop their skills to the full. Space will be given to the deepening of social communication through the analysis and experimentation of the opportunities that social networks in particular represent for young people and youth workers. We want to introduce audiovisual technology and a better understanding of social communication, as a privileged means to develop a greater understanding of diversity and promote inclusion in society.

HOST ORGANIZATION

Fundacja Tale Euro Est that carries out its services in training, combining his identity of non profit Foundation with the provision of education and vocational training. We consider fundamental relate to our beneficiaries in a perspective that takes into account their needs and priorities: for this reason we design training programs respectful of the needs of the context of belonging and demands of the labor market. Our business is enhanced through participation in European projects that lead us to know and deal with different countries, each bearer of its values and development models . It's so that we can build great experiences of personal and professional growth that encourage us to improve our services and to conceive it in an increasingly European dimension.

- life long learning : we believe in the importance of training to guide the development of the human during his own existence, not only to support the professional growth but also human and social;

- social inclusion: we design training programs that promote access of disadvantage categories to vocational training. At the same time we accompany them in a path of integration into the labor market to promote their personal development and make them feel part of the society in which they live .

For us, education is a tool to create an inclusive society that builds brick by brick the foundation of a radiant life and future.
